

Self Driving Cars

Proximity Sensors measure the distance from the car to the lane lines and other cars on the road.

Tesla and Google have been very prominent companies in the industry of autonomous vehicles.

Cars respond and act according to gps navigation and real time photo data.

